I am so sorry for your loss. The Bible provides comfort during these difficult times. Revelation 21:3,4...states "And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away". Very soon now, we will never experience losing our loved ones in death. Hope these words give you a new hope.

In Tribute to my brother, Billy ... A man who loved and cared for his family all his life. A straight shooter who never judged people but, rather, enjoyed and interacted with them. He also had a great sense of humor that was always apparent. While there may have been a feigned grumble, he was never happier than when he was fixing his kids' cars or helping them figure out their many projects. He could be firm but was always fair, and was more the peacemaker. He and Theresa raised three of the nicest kids I have had the pleasure to be related to. I love you all. Billy will be truly missed by all who knew him, and by all of us who loved him. I look forward to being with him and my mom again some day.Love,Nancy

Billy,You are a great guy and a true friend. We have a lot in common being from the Baystate and dedicated Red Sox fans. I enjoyed every round of golf with you, Billy.....especially those cold January and February days when most were hunkered down in their warm homes. But we created our own warmth talking about Worchester and Holyoke and of course the Sox! You have great love for your family, Billy and Teresa is the luckiest gal in the world to have had you for those many years. I know your sons and daughter and brothers and sisters and your grand kids will have a great legacy to share! You will live on in my heart as in many. Hey, Billy please tell the other GBs that God is a Red Sox fan...they never believed us and now you will know! Thanks for the great times....I will miss you, my friend!Love,Bobby

I count Bill as one of the best golfing buddies I've ever had. Always optimistic about the next shot regardless of how the last one had turned out and never had a bad thing to say about anyone or anything. And, best of all, he was always looking forward to the next round of golf; he once told me that he had never met a golf course he didn't like. I'd say that is true, but even further, Bill never met anything or anyone in life that he didn't like. I'll miss him greatly. My deepest condolences to Teresa and the entire Dixon family.
