Dear Baa, After all these years of wondering where you are, (50 years) I find you in cyberspace. Ah, dear one, how I grieve for the sweet kind teenage girl, who showed a sympathetic interest in another teen with whom you shared many heart feelings and long discussions. You were such a role model to me and gave me hope and guidance in a time of my desperate need. I am a much better person because of you, and I am just very sorry I never caught up with you to say "thank you Baa," until it was too late. We remained friends until the mid 1960's when the turbulence of the era separated many of us with time distance and war...which dug tiny little graves for our collective affections. Although I do not know your husband and family, they sound wonderful, and I wanted to thank them for sharing you to the extent that I could find you. I am ever grateful for my blessings in life, and I just wanted to say that one of my most enduring and memorable blessings, was on that far away day in 1965... when I met you in front of the Algebra class... Sometimes guardian angels pass in and out of our lives, and I dare not think of the road not taken... because you led me the other way. Good night Baa, God bless, and Thank you.... I hope you can read this in cyberspace. May you be seated with His brightest and best angels... Dave PS yes, I did become an author...

I just heard from my Cousin Joanne Silberbergs daughter of Barb's passing. I corresponded happily with Barb about family genealogy. I was pleased to meet her a few years ago when she came to central New York and I believe stayed with our cousin Violet Trost in Vernon. We had such a nice visit. I am so sorry to learn of her passing and was going to write her just this week. Please accept my sincere condolences to Steve and Scott and Christy.

Barbara was my cousin and I got to know her 2004 (or was it 2005 ? ...the year the locusts were out) when we visited the Churchill House during a McKee family re-union. It was me, my sister Sarah and her children Molly and Noah, and our mother Joanne Mckee Silberberg (Barbara's aunt) visiting from California. Barbara was instantly like-able with her graceful smile and sincerity. During the visit to Glen Ellen my mother wanted to visit her high school, an old sturdy municipal building which was mostly unchanged since she went there in the 1940's. The place was left open and we went exploring the rooms and in a faculty meeting room they had class pictures hanging on the walls, going back to the 1920's. They located Majorie's class picture , and there was a little portrait of Marjorie, Barbara's mom, looking about 17 years old, youthful and pretty. Barbara and Joanne were very excited that they actually found Marjorie's picture there, and Barbara was moved to tears. It was really quite a moment for both of them.I'm sad to hear about Barbara's passing and I wish to express my condolences to all who knew her and loved her.

A beautiful soul and woman has been taken from us. Barbara was a wonderful lady. She was a bright part of my life...always there with a patient ear, kind word and comforting hug. Always considered her my Charlotte mom and appreciated everything she did for me and the influences she had on my life. Her and Steve's presence at my wedding a couple of years ago was very special. Barbara will always be apart of me and will be remember. My thoughts go out to Steve and the family during this difficult time. I pray for ease of the sorrow by remembering the love and joy she brought to us all. -Laura
