Don, truly sorry about your mother's death. Miss Doris was a lovely and special lady. You were a devoted, loving and caring son who brought unending joy to your mother. Miss Doris always brightened my day with her lovely smile - all it took was, "Miss Doris, how are you today, need a cup of coffee", etc. Extensive conversation wasn't to be had, but you knew Miss Doris loved her son, Washington, D.C. and coffee. Miss Doris was always sitting "lady-like" with her legs crossed, only to be uncrossed when she needed her strong leg to hurriedly get her to her destination. Now that she has arrived at her greatest destination of all, take comfort in knowing that now you have a special guardian angel to watch over you.
