Xhenis...I've heard people say you have to push through grief to get to the other side. But I believe there is no other side....there's no pushing through. But more of absorbtion, adjustment and acceptance. You just endure. It can't be a task to finish. It seems more like an element of yourself...an alteration of your being. A new way of seeing. A new definiton of yourself. My heart aches for you and the kids. I can't know all you must feel, but I have you on my mind everyday. You are one of the strongest women I know, but Marc's death is shattering. Somehow I know you are surrounded with true friends and this is the time to rely on all of them. I send love and support to you and Mila and Dash. Always...Sarah

I'm so sorry for your loss. I'd like to share some real hope with you. In Psalms 146:4 tells the condition of the dead. "His breath goes out, he returns to the earth and that very day his thoughts perish." In Acts 24:15 the bible promises a resurrection of our loved ones back to earth. When Jesus resurrected Lazarus from the dead, he brought him back to earth. He's going to do that on a much larger scale in the future. In Psalms 37:11 29 says man will live forever on the earth in peace. That was God's original purpose, for Adam and Eve to live forever in the garden of eden. God's purpose hasn't changed. In Isaiah 45:18 says God created the earth to be inhabited. That's why he gave his son to die for us, John 3:16, so we could have everlasting life. In Revelation 21:4 says there'll be no more pain or death. There is no pain or death in heaven. Those are future conditions on earth under God's kingdom arrangement. JW.org
