I am so sorry for your loss. The Bible provides comfort during these difficult times. Revelation 21:3,4...states "And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away". Very soon now, we will never experience losing our loved ones in death.

You were the brother I never had. We loved, we fought, we argued, we shared in the exhilarations of the births of our children whether we got caught up in the golf tournament, much to Susan's ire, or playing with stopwatches. We hunted, we fished, we laughed, and at times, we cried. You were so good to my sister and the kids - three amazing children you brought into the world that have forever enriched my life and heart. You gave advice on my golf swing only when I asked and tolerated all of my human frailties with grace, dignity and respect. I am going to miss you Bob but will always be here for your children. At least, maybe now, sitting at God's right hand, you can dole me out some good advice about my swing or next tree stand location. :-)
