that first utilized the then emerging computing systems developed by Hewlett Packard, to automate data collection and configuration of undersea telephone cable systems as they were being deployed.

For this he was invited by Hewlett Packard Corp to speak before the IEE in Great Britton. During the last 10 years of his career, he and Polly traveled the globe while Fred led various undersea cable lay projects with his colleague and close friend, Kevin McDonald. Fred always said that Kevin was his true brother from another mother.

While living in Winston-Salem and Greensboro in the late 60s and early 70s, Fred coached little league football, baseball and basketball in Winston-Salem and Greensboro. He and his close friend Ben Cockman mentored many young men during this time.

Fred and Polly made their final move in retirement to Franklin NC's Patton Valley in 1994. Polly was born there in 1932 so she was just returning home. Very early on they became involved in the "Friends of the Library" and Fred created the computer program that tracked membership and donations for the new library.

Fred and Polly also joined Patton UMC and began 26 years of involvement with their new church family. Fred was involved in, and sometimes led, multiple gospel/bluegrass/folk bands, and was involved in a number of church functions. Fred made many many good friends there, admired the devotion of the extended Cloer family, but he was closest to his friend Robbie Wood.

Along with wood working, and trout fishing with his son Mike, Dr. Wilde, and Robbie Wood, Fred enjoyed a number of hobbies in retirement. Fred said many times that their home in Patton Valley was his and Polly's "little piece of paradise on earth".

James Funeral Home of Huntersville NC is serving the Kirkland family and can be contacted at 704-948-9004 or at www.JamesFuneralHomeLKN.com . Fred will be buried on the grounds of Patton UMC. A celebration of Fred's life will be held there in the coming weeks.

In lieu of flowers, memorials can be made in Fred's memory to either his church "Patton UMC" or to "Hospice & Palliative Care Lake Norman" who provided loving care through his final days
