Dr. Edwin Bell was a friend and a mentor who willingly blessed me and others with great leadership, expertise, and unparalleled kindness. He led by example and was always on the side of fairness, equity, inclusion, and social justice. I wouldn't be where and what I am today without Dr Bell's remarkable wisdom and guidance. He positively influenced numerous faculty, staff, and students throughout the Piedmont Triad and the larger society. It was through his guidance that I and other faculty members at Winston Salem State University received and implemented federal and state grants that provided professional development for teachers in high-need schools in the area. Ed Bell will be missed. May his soul rest in peace. Maduakolam Ireh

Many of the professional choices I have made are a result of the sage advice that Dr. Bell blessed me with. He was an empowering mentor, an admirable colleague, and a true soldier for justice. This world is better because he lived.

Dr. Bell was instrumental in bringing technology training to WSSU in 2000. I worked with him on a grant that helped the faculty to integrate technology into the classroom. His wisdom and passion for helping others will always be remembered.

What beautiful service

Carroy Ferguson September 13 at 1:36 PM
Very touching service!! I'm very appreciative of having the opportunity to witness the service virtually. As a classmate & roommate of Ed, I will miss knowing that he was still in the physical world. I take comfort, however, in knowing that he is still present in spirit and that his legacy and impact while on the physical plane will live on.
