Martha "Ann" Geddie

AUG 11, 1941 - AUG 30, 2025

Mrs. Martha “Ann” Carper Geddie, 84, passed away peacefully on August 30, 2025, in Stanley, North Carolina.

Born on August 11, 1941, in Charlottesville, Virginia, Ann was the daughter of William Hudson and Mary Alice Turman Carper. She grew up in Raleigh, North Carolina, where she attended Broughton High School. Her academic journey continued at St. Mary’s College and Meredith College in Raleigh, where she cultivated a lifelong love of learning and the arts.

Ann married Edgar McPhail (Mac) Geddie, Jr., with whom she shared a devoted marriage of 62 and a half years. Together they raised two daughters: Mary Kathryn Geddie Bridges (Phillip) and Susan Lee Geddie Allen (Eric). Ann’s legacy continues through her five grandchildren - Morgan McPhail Bridges Kennemur (Will), Phillip Hudson Bridges, Winston Nicholas Bridges, Sarah Geddie Allen, and Michael McPhail Allen. One great-grandson, James McPhail Kennemur.

After dedicating many years to raising her daughters, Ann began a professional career at the Federal Reserve Bank in Charlotte, North Carolina. Her intelligence and diligence were evident in all aspects of her life—from her work to her creative pursuits.

Ann was a gifted artisan whose hands were rarely still. She was an accomplished lace maker with a special talent for bobbin lace. Her knitting needles were always busy with new projects; she was also a prolific cross-stitcher and an avid quilter. A skilled seamstress with an eye for detail and design, Ann created beauty in every stitch. Her love of reading was equally enduring—she always had a book nearby and delighted in recommending favorite authors to others.

She is also remembered by her twin sister Lily Susannah Carper Strickland (Roger), sister-in-law Bonnie Carper, sister-in-law, Kathryn Ward Geddie, brother-in-law, Donald Thomas Geddie (Sue), and many who admired her grace and intellect. She was predeceased by her parents and her brother, James Turman Carper.

Ann was my friend. We didn't see each other much in these later years, but I am so grateful that I got to see her and chat before she left us. We shared a love of reading and to this day I keep a list of authors and titles she recommended. We would text each other our likes and Ann didn't hesitate to tell you of authors she did not like as well!! I was always intrigued with her many talents with her hands - sewing, lace, quilting (this is probably the tip of the iceberg). I loved listening to her share her knowledge of these things and seeing her beautiful work. Anyone in possession of any of her "art" should consider themselves lucky. What a legacy. Her bobbins!!!! What a collection. Years ago Ann introduced me to an electronic card site that I still use, Jacquie Lawson, and we have exchanged birthday cards every year through this site. I will miss my birthday greetings, and I cherish the ones I have. Ann was well traveled, well read, whip smart, and a lover of animals. Never heard her say an ugly word about anyone. That cute little smile and impish eyes will be my favorite memory. She will be missed. My condolences to you all - I can't name the everyone here, but Ann loved each and every one of you and was so proud of her family. Big hugs to you all, but especially Mac, Catherine and Susan. I have known Ann for about 20 years, and she has been such a blessing in my life. We met at the gym years ago, and she and I were in the same book club for 15 years. Ann was so passionate about reading and her hobbies and just life in general! We celebrated the good things that life sent our way and supported each other during the difficult times. There is a special place reserved in my heart just for you, Ann Geddie. I miss you already. ❤️ Love, Joan

Thinking of your family at this time of loss. Ann will be remembered for her beautiful smile, friendly greetings and talented creations. I enjoyed trips and activities with her while our husbands were working on Duke energy projects and wives had time to enjoy socials. Pray for peace as you struggle through this horrible time of grief and miss her.
