

Christopher Goode

April 4, 1970 - November 8, 2020

Christopher "Chris" Robert Goode passed away Sunday, November 8, 2020. He was born April 4, 1970 to Marsha Derberry and the late Terry Goode.

In addition to his father, Chris is predeceased by his grandfather, Billy Greer; grandparents, Henry and Virgie Goode; and his much loved aunt, Delane Greer Edwards.

Chris has many survivors whom he loved dearly: son, Christopher Goode, Jr.; daughter, Megan Elizabeth Goode; mother and stepfather Marsha and Clyde Derberry; grandmother, Joyce Greer; stepmother, Jan Goode; sister, Amber Goode; nephew, Damian; brother, Logan Derberry (Alexandra); grandson, Justin Goode and his mother Jennifer; granddaughter, Addyson Tutterow and her mother, Nanny DeAnna and Addyson's siblings, Justice, Michael, Jr, Rakeem, and Destiny; his good friend and golfing partner, Mike also known as Frog; and his best friend who helped him stay happy, Beverly McLaughin.

There will be a celebration of life service at a later date.

Chris had several working experiences over his lifetime, but the last two brought him the most happiness because of the trust and friendships made there. They are Beverly's Fine Foods and Powers Great American Midways. He was also proud to have served in the North Carolina National Guards 1454th Transportation Company when they deployed to Saudi Arabia in November of 1990.

Chris was a loving, smart, and kind man who had many bumps in the road throughout life, but he kept on trucking on with music, AM talk radio shows, funny and mostly crude jokes fueling his way. As most of us do, he tried to keep his eye on the future while enjoying his life, friends, family, and especially his grandchildren. Rest in peace, Chris.

“ So sad to see this....

Worked with Chris for 2 years on the carnivals until i came back to South Africa had so many fun conversations and jokes in the little time that i have known him.

Rest in peace Chris

“ Hi Johnny, Chris truly loved the Powers Great American Midways community. I noticed if you stayed with them even a short period of time you all became like a family...with all the good and bad that comes with being a family. I wish more people knew what the workers went through to ensure a safe and exciting time at the county fairs for friends and families....long hours, hard work, dangerous work, constant bright lights and loud music,loud people, exhausting days and nights....and still most of Powers employees loved doing it as long as no one got hurt....Thanks for your sympathy...We all miss him so much already

“ We were children having children, and Chris was the(our) first. Marsha and Keith were PARENTS, and all their friends, myself included, were nudged a little faster into adulthood. Having known Chris since he was a baby, I had many opportunities to see the kindness, respect, humor, loyalty and realness of one who will always be a "young man" to me. And having known Chris's mother most of both of our lives, I know that Chris was blessed with a mother who gave him limitless and unconditional love. Rest In Peace, Chis, "young man".

“ I remember going to see Steppenwolf while pregnant with Chris with you and Sylvia.... I had on a beautiful "hippie" long dress that was gathered under the breasts which made it accentuate my stomach.....Of course I was really thin then and it looked as if I had stuck a basketball under there.....That concert must have been the beginning of Chris' avid love of rock music..... Along with all the music he heard at home and at our infamous parties and outings all these years. I took him to his first two concerts (out of the womb) Black Sabbath and Kiss.He was in fourth or fifth grade.....Great memories

“ Chris always brought joy and entertainment where ever he would go. My son is so fortunate to have such an awesome pawpaw as Chris. He had just took Justin (his grandson) go cart racing the Friday before he departed.. He also took him to a haunted trail. I guess he was preparing him to never be afraid and get ready to drive. This was only a few of the fun filled things he did with his grandson. He would also get his grand daughter Addy and just plan on having fun in all types of entertaining ways. Chris knew the value of simply being together and the joy that brings. All the years he worked for the fair he made sure that his kids and family were able to join in on the fun. He also brought a lot of enjoyment to my life. I valued the relationship i had with him and especially the one he had with my son. His Spirit will truly be alive in my heart and in my sons blood always. The love bonds that were formed here are a forever type of thing, We love you Chris!!
